NOTES ON THE LAND.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION DEPARTMENT.

ROSES FOR GARDENS.

From time to time the Rose Production Department has pointed out the many possibilities of this much neglected culture. A few years ago public interest was at a low ebb, and yet, through the efforts of a group of enthusiasts, enabled a show in the north of England to spread to other parts of the country.

It is not surprising, therefore, that the present interest in the rose should be due in no small measure to the influence of these earlier workers. The result has been that the rose is now much more popular than ever before.

In the South of England, the rose is grown on a large scale, and the specimens that are raised there are of a high order.

SALMON FROM JAPAN.

Japan has been exporting salmon to England for many years, and the quantity of fish imported is continually increasing.

The salmon from Japan are of a superior quality, and are extensively used for the preparation of katsuobushi, a dish which is eaten throughout the country.

In the meantime, the salmon from British waters are also becoming more popular, and the demand for them is increasing daily.

PAYMENT TO VETERANS.

The payment of pensions to veterans of the late war is an important matter, and the Government is doing everything in its power to ensure that the rights of these men are recognised.

The pensions are paid in accordance with the terms of the veteran's service, and the amount varies according to the length of service.
