

Marriages at Warbstow,

1695 to 1812.

NOTE.—The first volume of the Warbstow register has parchment leaves and a good binding. It is complete for the periods which it covers and except in a few places it is quite legible. It gives Baptisms from 1695 to 1796, Marriages from 1695 to 1753 and Burials from 1695 to 1796. A note by the then vicar states that it was rebound in 1771 and that the Baptisms and Burials were wrongly placed by the binder.

The second volume has a leather binding and paper leaves consisting of Hardwicke's forms. On the outside cover is inscribed "Marriages from 1754 to 1812." The first eight pages are missing the earliest entry being dated 21st April, 1771. There is also a missing page between 27th Oct. 1788 and 15th March, 1791.

In both volumes other gaps will be observed, but these are apparently owing to the fact that no marriages were solemnized at Warbstow. In most cases a statement to that effect is inserted in the register. It must be remembered that during the whole period covered by it, Treneglos and Warbstow were, as at the present time, held by the same incumbent and it is possible that Warbstow Marriages may have been sometimes entered in the Treneglos register and vice versa.

The Rev. A. L. T. Mugford, vicar of the united parishes, has extracted the Marriages and given permission for them to be printed.

At Exeter there are Warbstow transcripts for the years 1611, 1613, 1623, 1629, 1663—1665, 1737—1740, 1773—1812, except 1776, and 1779, 1792 being contained in the supplementary packet.
